MEMORANDUM ORDER

Plaintiff has filed a Motion To Compel (D.I. 53) certain source codes and related documentation of software related to the accused PlayCentral product.

Defendants answer that the accused product works on principles of mechanical engineering and that production sought is not relevant to the asserted patent claims. Defendants offer a claim construction brief submitted to a Magistrate Judge in the Northern District of Ohio by GTECH's predecessor, Interlott Technologies, Inc., to demonstrate the lack of relevance.

Because I agree with Defendants that Plaintiff's present request (D.I. 53 at 4) is overly broad, I must deny the Motion To Compel (D.I. 53) in its entirety.

So Ordered.
